Check-n-Fly | HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Json, MYSQL, Docker, Database

- Built a Functional website with a group of 3, that is hosted on a local server receiving data from an API to help track their flights and hotel for their next vacation.
- Hosted it on local live server using docker and node.js. We used both API's from Amedeus API that logged all the flight timings for each airline around the world along with the price. The other API checks hotel availability suitable for your landing date.
- Developed a fully multi-functional website that is interactable where the data is filtered and sorted to be user friendly to provide information to the user
